HOME > Today's Front Pages > Thursday, June 09, 2011: 895 front pages from 90 countries.

Starting today, the Newseum is testing a watermarking system to prevent illegal downloads of the newspaper front pages.

Through a special agreement with more than 800 newspapers worldwide, the Newseum displays these front pages each day on its website. The front pages are in their original, unedited form, and some may contain material that is deemed objectionable to some visitors. Discretion is advised.

Anyone seeking permission to use a front page must credit the Newseum and contact the newspaper directly for permission. U.S. copyright laws apply.

Mapping the news

The Seattle Times maps the news each day to make it easy for you to see what's happening throughout the area. Using Google Maps, we plot several stories daily. You can use the index on the left to select a story and see it plotted on a map. Or you can browse the map, zooming in and out, and click on a push pin to read about the story that happened there.

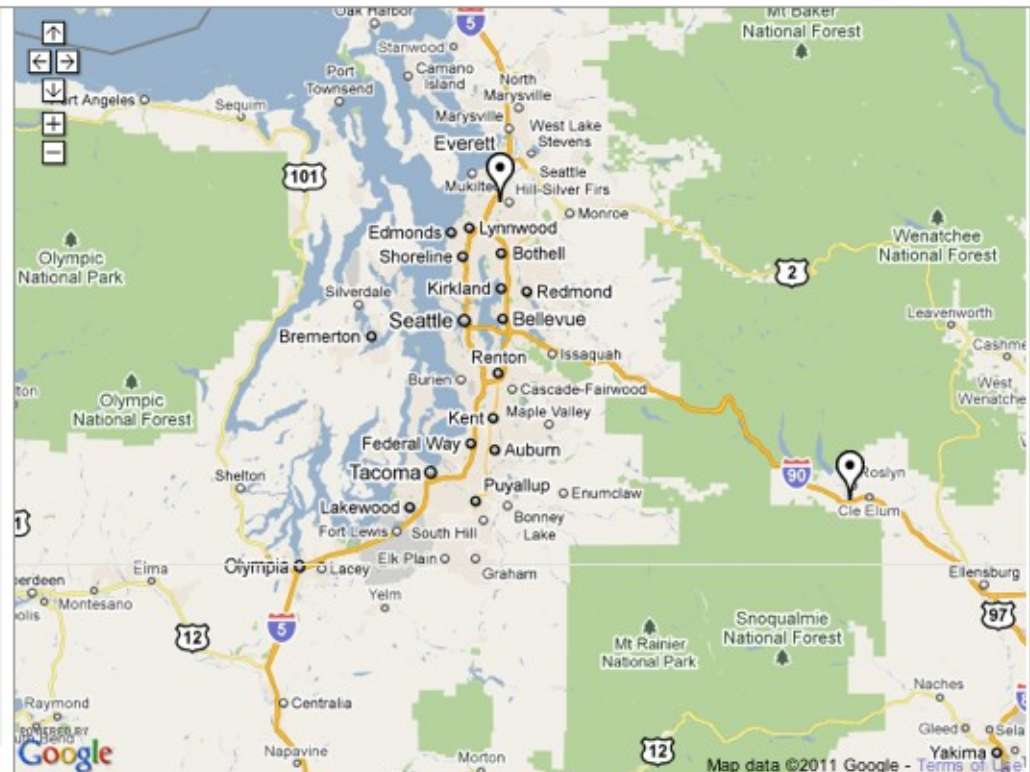

We've also mapped stories from news outlets around the globe in our World Edition.
